About Me

"I have a passion for trying new things to improve myself and consistently stepping out of my comfort zone. I have lived in Canada and Denmark and am currently residing in Sweden, originally from Japan. Every country is unique, each with its distinct character. It is a pleasure for me to immerse myself in learning about new cultures. Currently, I am studying front-end development. This is a new endeavor for me, and I am enjoying the process of studying and facing different problems each time. Learning programming is akin to solving a puzzle. In small steps, we need to collect and create a big project, where each step holds important meaning. This is an enjoyable journey for me to learn and explore. I am grateful for the opportunity to be born in this generation, allowing me to learn and understand a plethora of codes."
